GENERAL BINDING SITE PLAN

WHAT IS A GENERAL BINDING SITE PLAN?

A General Binding Site Plan is an alternative platting mechanism that establishes a flexible development pattern. The Plan determines the location of essential facilities such as roads and utilities, but allows for flexibility in the placement of property lines. After a General Binding Site Plan is approved, individual lots can be created through a separate Specific Binding Site Plan process.

The General Binding Site Plan allows for less than complete construction of infrastructure at the preliminary development stage. While some infrastructure may be required as a condition of approval, generally the infrastructure is phased and is constructed to serve each Specific Binding Site Plan.

A GENERAL BINDING SITE PLAN CAN BE USED TO:

Establish a development pattern for a commercial or industrial project.

Establish a development pattern for a condominium project, including commercial and/or residential condominiums.

Determine where public and quasi-public facilities such as roads, stormwater ponds, and infrastructure facilities are to be located.

Establish conditions for wetland and critical area protection and mitigation for the entire project at the initial approval stage.

RCW 58.17.035

A city, town, or county may adopt by ordinance procedures for the divisions of land by use of a binding site plan as an alternative to the procedures required by this chapter...

The ordinance shall provide that after approval of the general binding site plan for industrial or commercial divisions subject to a binding site plan, the approval for improvements and finalization of specific individual commercial or industrial lots shall be done by administrative approval...

Refer to state law for full text.

HOW DO I APPLY?

1. A pre-application conference is required.
2. You must submit a General Binding Site Plan application with associated drawings, a Land Use Master Invoice, and a SEPA Checklist.
3. You must pay the applicable fees

A GENERAL BINDING SITE PLAN CANNOT BE USED TO:

Create individual lots. A Specific Binding Site Plan is used to create individual lots.

Establish a development pattern for single-family residential development or any other non-condominium residential development.

HOW IS THE APPLICATION PROCESSED?

The application is processed as Type II-CC application. Refer to the Informational Bulletin describing that process. See IB#8.

MORE QUESTIONS?
